Shaldon Festival Choir

Directed by Stephen Threlfall

Shaldon Festival's Saturday concert will be an informal performance of the Rossini Petite Messe Solennelle. Singers are warmly invited to join the 2018 un auditioned Shaldon Festival Choir to sing this well-loved work which, contrary to what is suggested by its title, is neither short nor solemn. There will be rehearsals during the day for the 7.30pm concert and an optional rehearsal, led by Peter Adcock, on the previous Saturday.

Our Musical Director will be Stephen Threlfall, Director of Music at Chetham's School, Manchester. Stephen has earned considerable acclaim as conductor, cellist and educator. His engagements have taken him overseas on numerous occasions. He has broadcast for the BBC, Classic FM and Russian National TV and Radio and has made a number of recordings. He has a passion for working with young people and has enjoyed successful collaborations with many student and youth orchestras, both at home and abroad. He has also created a number of acclaimed arts and community projects involving many guest musicians, artists and specialists.

Stephen last conducted the Festival Choir in 2016 for a performance of Brahms Requiem and is returning by popular request. With his energetic manner, pleasant sense of humour and extensive musical knowledge, we know that this will be a thoroughly enjoyable day.
